KIMBERLY S. ADAMS JOINS LEWIS WAGNER AS PARTNER

Growing Indianapolis firm expands complex litigation team.

INDIANAPOLIS (April 2018) – Lewis Wagner welcomes Kimberly S. Adams to the firm as Partner. Adams is an experienced litigator who has successfully handled numerous jury and bench trials. As a member of Lewis Wagner’s complex litigation team, Adams will help manage the defense of class actions, mass tort defense cases and professional liability matters. Adams currently chairs the 2018 IndyBar Association’s Diversity Job Fair; a role focusing on creating a legal workforce representative for the clients and communities she serves.

Adams has defended hospitals, long-term care facilities, physicians and nurse practitioners in state and federal courts throughout the Midwest. Adams also provides legal guidance on HIPAA Privacy and Security, risk management and employment matters. Adams’ background includes service as a deputy prosecuting attorney in the Sex Crimes/Child Abuse Unit of the Marion County Prosecutor’s Office, where she successfully prosecuted major felony offenses in numerous jury and bench trials. Adams has nearly a decade of experience as a private practice litigator and as a former in-house corporate counsel, with experience in providing advice on both health information privacy and security matters.

“Lewis Wagner is a law firm focused on collaboration, diversity and betterment of the community. I am constantly inspired by my fellow partners and litigators, and I am honored to be part of this amazing team,” expressed Adams.
